

Join Our Adventure

Extension Homemakers is an education and service program to improve the quality of life for members and their families.

Homemakers clubs are a terrific place to make new friends, learn new skills and experience unlimited personal growth.

As a Homemaker, you can:

Make: Every month we discuss cutting-edge issues in foods, health, relationships, consumer protection, crafts and technology. Homemakers enjoy learning new skills at monthly meetings and Extension workshops and programs.

Belong: Make new friends to explore and share community issues, family life, international and diversity awareness, environmental issues and healthy homes.

Serve: Make a difference in our community by sharing knowledge and talents, honoring veterans, helping the homeless, assisting nursing home residents, and other projects. Homemaker Volunteer hours make a big difference in our community

Connect: Because of COVID concerns, many activities are offered online via print and Zoom, as well as in-person and socially-distanced. Clubs have a variety of ways that they get together.

The Fayette County Extension Homemakers program is part of the Family and Consumer Sciences division of the Fayette County Cooperative Extension Service.
