Kentucky Homemaker Creed

I believe in the home as an inspiring and happy center of family life—comfortable and attractive—a place for relaxation and work where pleasures and responsibilities are shared.

I believe in the home and its contribution to community life which reflects the development of the homemaker and the family.

I believe in the homemaker—alert, diligent, in search of better ways of doing ordinary things for the welfare and happiness of the family.

I believe in the homemaker as a community leader responsible for passing on to others mastered skills and knowledge.

I believe in the fellowship that comes through the homemakers organization—the exchange of ideas and the joy of knowledge shared with others, thus broadening our lives and lifting household tasks above the commonplace.

For those opportunities I am grateful. I am also thankful for the courage of yesterday, the hope of tomorrow, and a growing consciousness of God's love always.
